Meeting To Organize Branch Red Cross Society In Crossfield District

His Worship, the Mayor, W. J. Wood, will preside at a meeting to be held on Thursday evening, October 26, commencing at 8:00 o'clock, to organize and elect officers for a branch of the Red Cross Society. This will be a wide-open meeting and it is hoped the different organizations throughout the Crossfield district will be well represented.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES.

Services at Rodney next Sunday morning.

Joint Rally of United Church and Anglican Young People in the new room of the United Church next Sunday afternoon, to be addressed by Mr. Garth Walker who attended the Amsterdam Youth Conference last July.

The regular evening service in the United Church will be taken by a number of young people.

Dedication of the new room and Anniversary Services will be held in the United Church on Oct. 29th. morning and evening Dr. Powell, Supt. of Missions in Alberta will preach in the morning. The Ladies will serve Chicken Supper in the new room and a program will follow on Monday evening 30th.

New chairs have arrived for use in the enlarged building.

A carload of Sunday School workers attended a helpful Sunday School Institute in Knox Church last Saturday, Rev. D. Forsythe and Mr. Roy Belford of Montreal and Toronto respectively, taking part.

United Church people—plan to attend the Southern Alberta Rally to be addressed by the Moderator of the General Council, Rev. J. W. Woodside, D. D., of Ottawa and Dr. Jesse Arnup of Toronto.

The Young People's Society were hosts on Monday evening 16th to the Young People's Unions of the Red Deer Presbytery. 114 gathered in the church for the installation of officers for the year 39-40, the planning of work, contest, games stunts etc. Lunch provided by the guests was served by the hosts.

Local and General

Jeff Young, of Calgary, visited at the home of his grandmother and uncle, Mrs. McKory and Mr. J. L. McKory, during the weekend.

Louie Becker in a car with a nice lady.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zang and son, accompanied by the former's father, all of Calgary, visited at the home of Mrs. Zang's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Overby, on Tuesday, where she remained to spend the week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Purvis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gordon, of Cranbrook, and Mrs. Sandy Gordon and her sister, of Portland, Oregon, attended the Golden wedding of their sister and brother-in-law at Youngstown Saturday last.

Under the joint auspices of the Buders' Club and the A.Y.P.A., a Rally will be held on Sunday, October 22nd, in the United Church, to hear two delegates from the Amsterdam Youth Conference, namely Mr. Garth Walker and Mr. Ted Miller. The afternoon session will be at 2:00 p.m. when slides will be shown. In the evening a Young People's service will be held, when it is hoped that the visiting delegates will tell us more of the Conference. Everyone interested is cordially invited to attend both the afternoon and evening sessions.

ANGLICAN CHURCH NOTES

HARVEST FESTIVAL

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by the Warden's wives, A.Y.P.A. and the J.W.A., and a great deal of preliminary work was done at the Rectory to help out the work on Saturday. Thanks are due to those who gave the flowers, fruit, vegetables and grain. A large congregation turned out to sing the harvest hymns and hear the Rev. J. R. Davies preach the Harvest Hymn.

Damage to Village Property and Riding Bicycles on Sidewalks

We are pleased to see from the regular meeting of the council that drastic steps are being

Regular Meeting Village Council

The regular monthly meeting of the village council was held in the Fire Hall last Wednesday, October 11th.

Communications from Western Canada Insurance Underwriters was placed before the meeting, stating that although the chemical equipment was mounted on a motor vehicle, this would not lower the fire insurance rates in the village.

Communications were also received from the British American Oil Co. asking for a permit to move the warehouse and to store gasoline and distillate underground on the south half of the Pfeuti property and to erect a retail outlet. The council granted permission for moving the warehouse and storing the gasoline, but did not recommend the erection of a retail outlet, as the village already has five retail gas stations.

Discussion took place in regard to wilful damage being done to property within the village and the nuisance of children riding bicycles on sidewalks. A resolution was passed that a notice be inserted in the Crossfield Chronicle warning any person found damaging property or riding a bicycle on sidewalks be brought before the Justice of the Peace.

The balance of the meeting was taken up with routine business.

taken to protect property within the village, and also to stop the riding of bicycles on sidewalks.

The village is now paying for the services of two employees whose duties include seeing that the public receives protection from wanton destruction of property and the prevention of injury to citizens who have every right of using the sidewalks, for which purpose they were built. Boys are boys the world over, and if they can ride bicycles on a good walk with the chance of not being checked up by anyone of authority, the bicycle nuisance will continue; but when they find out that the council means business and no favours will be shown, the nuisance will end.

Cremona Notes

Owing to bad weather threshing has been held up with snow and rain, but is about half done, with most of the grain going tough. The yield in this district has surprised most of the farmers, the highest yield of wheat being Red Bobs, 65 bushels per acre for 18 acres. Oats running 70 bushels to the rackload.

The ladies of the district formed a local of the Red Cross this week.

Miss V. R. Hewitt is convenor for the Voluntary Registration of women. Registering in the week October 16th to 21st, both included, at the Telephone office.

Several of the boys who have registered for the Air Service have been called, and several of the old Veterans have enlisted again.

One of our farmers saw a Mountain Lion crossing the bridge west of Del Warren on the Little Red River, so he picked up the children coming home from school and took them across the bridge, only 4 miles west of Cremona.

Farmers in this district are getting tractors with rubber wheels now, trading in their old ones.

We hear them say, Have a heart now the elevator cannot dry your grain when it is tough, and the elevator man is only human.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED ?

There seems to be some misunderstanding with regard to the purpose of the Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women.

Canada is at war and a group has been formed to take a voluntary registration of your qualifications and to find out what you are prepared to do for your country in an emergency.

These registrations are not sworn statements.

When the Dominion Census is taken, the occupation of a married woman is given as "Housewife" and if that woman prior to her marriage was a nurse, school teacher, telephone operator & C there are no statistics with regard to it.

If the women of the Dominion co-operate with regard to this Registration, when the information is tabulated, it ought to prove of great value to our country.

The Crossfield Fire Hall will be open daily from the 16th October to 21st October, from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday evening from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Your co-operation will be appreciated. Register Now!

were only eleven members present on account of bad roads. Snowed four inches Saturday evening in about two hours.

Mrs. E. Ronquist has returned from the hospital much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yager have a three weeks old son. It seems we don't hear of these new comers until they are half grown.

We expect the timber inspector will be around soon as we saw Major Gow sneaking up on a log.

Mrs. Henry Stene and two of her sons were Sunday visitors in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Ronquist returned from their Summer holidays at Slave Lake. Pete says they had a wonderful time but it is good to be back again. He tells the same old story, that the fish cost $3.52 per pound.

"Any Old Thing Will Do"

The story is told of a man who, when asked what kind of woman he wanted for his wife, promptly answered, "Any old thing will do." His answer revealed the fact that he was careless not only in the selection of a wife, but also in the words he used in describing her.

We may safely assume that the above answer was characteristic of that man. When he so expressed himself as to his selection of a wife it is not likely that he would be any more particular in other things. If such an important matter as the choice of a wife was of so small moment, or so immaterial, it is not likely that in his opinion anything mattered much.

We can scarcely imagine this man as being much concerned about his personal appearance. Very likely his most used phrases were "What's the use?" "I should worry," and "Let it go at that." Very likely too, he frequently used these words so often heard today, "I'll get by all right." When he plowed, cultivated, planted, and reaped his fields, any old way was good enough for him. We can imagine him putting everything off until the last minute, and then doing it in a hurry and very poorly at that. Like the man in Arkansas he could not mend the roof of his shack while it rained, and when the weather was dry he did not need to do it!

We can follow this first mentioned man through the year's activities from January to December. It is the same old story all the way—"Any old thing will do." Procrastination was the thief of his time. Carelessness and efficiency were the ruin of his work. Most of his thought was after-thought, not fore-thought. It was a common sight to see him searching for dry kindling wood around the wood-pile after a night's rain. He was always shutting gates and mending fences after his s'ook had strayed. He never took pains until pains took him. He generally waited until there were a few heavy, killing frosts before he dug his potatoes or took up the root crops. With him it was always the "morning after the night before".

This man whom I have just described is not by any means alone when he says "Any old thing will do." There are many, many others who share his views principles, and practices. I have known students in college who were given a whole month in which to prepare a term theme, an essay, or a book review. On the last day of the month I have seen them frantically trying to find certain reference books in order to glean a few facts. There were not enough reference books to go around, and in many cases they all wanted to use the same book!

Doubtless many of those students would have been in the same fix had they been given a longer time in which to prepare that theme, essay, or book review. The story would have been the same—a last minute effort at preparation, and far, far from being thorough. Why be last when by a little well-directed effort one can be first? Why hand in a little poor term paper when by a little painstaking work one can prepare a good paper? Why be content with doing poor work of any kind when by exercising a little care one can do good work whether it be plowing, planting, reaping, teaching a class, writing prose or poetry, or preaching a sermon? "Any old thing will do" is a poor life motto. Have nothing to do with the inferior in any shape or form. Inferiority is a disease which demoralizes our mental processes, stupefies our ambition, and pulls down our whole life.

A certain establishment had for its motto "Where only the best is good enough." What a life motto this would make! It would lift us out of our low self-contentment, mediocrity, and inferiority. Let us be exacting with ourselves, and demand the very best of ourselves. If we have for our motto "Any old thing will do" the time will come when there will not be anything else for us.

Carry on and be thankful.

Weeds in wartime aid the enemy reduce production at any time. It is not the weeds a farmer has that matter so much, it is what he is doing to control them that is important.

Russian Thistle is invading our district from several points, chiefly on the road allowance, carried in by truck and car. Watch Russian Thistle, it is a bad one, as some local farmers know from experience in former locations.

Some farmers do not know what it looks like, better for them if they never do. Of course it will "do well" in this district, why wouldn't it? what we have so far is certainly doing well enough.

Cavalcade of Drama

A new program's inception has hit the airwaves: its "Cavalcade of Drama." Every housewife in Canada should listen to this program. Its new! Its thrilling! Just turn your radio dial to CFAC every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning at 10:45, and you will hear the grandest stories that are on the air. The first, now running, is the life story of P. T. Barnum, the man who made America Circus-conscious. It tells of love, intrigue, romance, adventure, humor, as well as telling historically true facts about this great and interesting man. Friends, you must listen to "Cavalcade of Drama," it is just too good to be missed. Remember the time, 10:45 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays over CFAC.

Wedding Bells Ring Oct. 19 For "Big Sister" In CFAC Serial Drama

Big Sister is married. For three years Alice Frost, in the title role of "Big Sister," serial drama broadcast Mondays through Fridays over CFAC, 11:00 a.m. has been in love with Dr. John Wayne (Martin Gabel). But, following the usual course of true love, one obstacle after another prevented their marriage. When Ruth Evans—her name in the sketches—met Wayne, he was already married to a woman who had lost her mind. Ruth finally capitulated to pleas of another admirer, the Rev. David Brewster. The day they were married, Wayne's wife died. Hearing this news, David disappeared immediately after the wedding ceremony. Ruth and John then spent a long period searching for her missing husband. Brewster finally was found in California, suffering from a strange incurable malady. All efforts to save his life failed. Ruth was left a widow several months ago. Now, at last she is free to become the bride of the man who means more to her than any other in the world. She set the date for Thursday, Oct. 19. The wedding is to be performed in the home of Ruth's youngest sister—Sue Evans Miller (Hilda Stoddard.)

As his wedding present for Ruth, John has a gold locket made in the shape of a miniature prayer book with a figure of Caduseds, medical emblem of Mercury's wing-tipped wand with two serpents intertwined. Ruth and John plan to settle down in the little town of Raventon, devoting their lives to helping the poor people of that community. (End)

Around Field And Barn. By E. M. C.

Have you given any thought as to what might happen to a large proportion of Great Britain's food supplies should Denmark, Norway, Sweden and the Netherlands become victims of the diplomatic maneuvering of Hitler and his gang?

If the U boats cannot get past the convoys then see to it that there is no food to convoy. Such a development is not impossible; there is undoubtedly, some mischief afoot in that corner, economic warfare, they call it, and a cornered rat is dangerous.

Such a development would immediately place full responsibility upon the Canadian farmer, the Alberta farmer, the Crossfield farmer, each and all of us.

Should such a desperate situation arise, no doubt, the authorities would be quite equal to the emergency, and it has no doubt been considered.

But we who demand conscription of wealth, must be prepared for at least a partial conscription of production.

There will not be, and should never be, profit out of misery—not in a democracy.

The World of Wheat.

By H. G. L. Strange

Peace, that blessed state, is already at this early date being talked about. Let us hope it will soon come. The terms upon which peace can be made have been set out concisely and simply by the leaders of Great Britain and France. They are that Hitlerism and Nazism shall be eliminated, that Poland and Czechoslovakia shall be restored as independent nations, and that disarmament shall take place.

When Peace eventually is to be made, it should not be left to the politicians alone, but the soldiers who have risked their lives, and the farmers who form the bulk of the people of the world, themselves shall have something to say about it; all to the end that not only shall a political peace be made, but what is perhaps more important, that economic justice too shall be done; so that it shall be possible for the under-nourished and under-fed people of Europe to obtain all the wheat and food-stuffs they require from our Canadian and other farmers, in exchange for their own goods and product.

If these things are done, then the world truly, and at last, will have a just and lasting peace.

A despatch from Ottawa tells us that the Honorable Mr. T. A. Crerar, who is to be Canada's representative to Great Britain, is taking overseas with him "The Canadian Wheat Puzzle". It would be better put, it seems to me, if the despatch had stated that the Honorable Mr. Crerar is taking to Great Britain the most welcome news of the large amount of wheat they have produced, and which is available for Allied use.

In 1914 there was no wheat surplus, and it was "touch and go" whether there would be enough food for the Allied Armies and Civilians, but the wonderful Western Canadian crop of 1915 assured the necessary supplies of foodstuffs. This year Western farmers have again produced a great surplus of wheat, which is certainly the world's most important war munition, for no army can fight without food, and of all foods that are required by soldiers, none quite compare with good bread made from high quality wheat.

The news, which Mr. Crerar is taking with him, of this generous supply of fine Canadian wheat, will unquestionably be heartily welcomed by Great Britain and her Allies.
